

Navy Family Housing Realigned

As a result of a CNO directed action, known as the Family Housing Functional Assessment (FA), effective October 1, 2002, Housing Offices at bases throughout the Navy will no longer report to Naval Facilities Engineering Command. The change will have no impact on services provided to Navy personnel and their families.

The Navy conducted the FA to determine what would be the most efficient organization for Family Housing, which resulted in the following changes:

- ❑ Reduced number of Installation Management Claimants managing Family Housing from 10 to 3 (Commander in Chief, U.S. Atlantic Fleet; Commander in Chief, U.S. Pacific Fleet, and Commander in Chief, U.S. Naval Forces Europe)
- ❑ Transferred responsibility for operations and budgets to Installation Management Claimants
- ❑ Improved regional alignment and control of Family Housing operations
- ❑ Improved program governance and strategic oversight

At the Installation level, Family Housing offices will continue to serve Installation Commanding Officers, but the operations and budgets are now handled by a Navy region; for this area, Navy Region Southeast, which is located at Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

“The goal is to reduce infrastructure, streamline operations, and allow people who are in the installation management business to oversee Family Housing,” said Dean Reynolds, Acting Family Housing Program Manager for Commander, Navy Region Southeast. “To our people and their families who live in Family Housing, or use the services provided by the Housing Office, they should not notice any difference in the way we do business.”

The transition for Family Housing affects 25 Installations within Navy Region Southeast:

Andros Island
Naval Supply Corps School, Athens, Ga.
Naval Air Station Atlanta, Ga.
Naval Hospital, Beaufort, S.C.
Naval Weapons Station Charleston, S.C.

Naval Air Station Corpus Christi, Texas
Naval Air Station Joint Reserve Base Ft. Worth, Texas
Naval Base Guantanamo Bay, Cuba
Construction Battalion Center Gulfport
Naval Atlantic Meteorological and Oceanographic Command,
Stennis Space Center, Miss.
Naval Station Ingleside, Texas
Naval Air Station Jacksonville, Fla.
Naval Air Facility Key West, Fla.
Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay, Ga.
Naval Air Station Kingsville, Texas
Naval Medical Research Center Detachment, Lima, Peru
Naval Station Mayport, Fla.
Naval Air Station Meridian, Miss.
Naval Support Activity, Mid-South, Memphis, Tenn.
Naval Support Activity/Naval Air Station New Orleans, La.
Coastal Systems Station Panama City, Fla.
Naval Station Pascagoula, Miss.
Naval Air Station Pensacola, Fla.
Naval Station Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico
Naval Air Station Whiting Field, Fla.

Several action teams - including personnel from affected Installations, Commander, Navy Region Southeast, and union officials - have been meeting for several months to ensure a smooth transition for regional housing employees with the least impact while being transparent to Sailors and their families who use Navy Family Housing services.

The Family Housing FA is part of the Navy’s ongoing process to and regionalize infrastructure, improve the way the Navy does business, be more efficient, and save money.
